Weekly farm market planned in Antioch

By BETSY ROSSEN

A fresh produce market, organized by the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry and the Illinois Dept. of Agriculture, may be coming to the village this summer.

Chamber president Richard Kirkpatrick presented the idea at Monday night's village board meeting. Mayor Robert Wilton and the trustees expressed support for the market, which would feature fruits and vegetables from local farms and vegetable gardens.

Tentative plans call for a market from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. every Friday, July 1 to Sept. 30. Suggested location is the 12-hour parking area south of Orchard and west of Broadway.

WORK ON HALF-FARE taxi subsidies was reported by trustee William Seemann. The 8 seek election to Grass Lake board

Eight persons are seeking four openings on the Grass Lake school board of education.

The election will be Saturday, Apr. 9, with voting from 12 noon till 7 p.m. at the school.

Three three-year terms are expiring. Seeking those are Marlene Olsen, Irvine W. Metz, Donald E. Ament, James Bletsch and incumbents Gregory LaPlante and John L. Steitz Jr.

Two women are seeking the one-year vacancy: Susan M. Lloyd and incumbent Beverly Mattson.

proposed plan now states village residents over 65 will receive 16 tickets per month which would entitle them to pay 75 cents for taxi rides within village limits.

The village would pay the remaining 75 cents, using federal revenue sharing funds for the project. A public hearing has been set for 7:30 p.m. next Monday on several proposed uses of the funds totalling $52,347.

SUPT. OF PUBLIC WORKS Walter Shepard, coordinator of the Hiram Buttrick sawmill reconstruction, told the board that 13 members of the Glenview U.S. Navy Seabee Reserves made considerable progress on the waterwheel hub and log rack last weekend.

Construction battalion steelworkers will work Saturday, Apr. 2, on reinforcements for the dam. Shepard also said that the Chain O'Lakes Woodcarvers have been working on a 20-foot totem pole for the site near the village garage on Turner Drive.

REVENUE BONDS have been issued to cover $730,000 worth of water and sewer improvements, including water main extension and replacements, an elevated storage tank, a lift station and a new well. The village will pay $280,000 and has issued bonds of $450,000 to the State Bank of Antioch.

Harold Warren of Warren Associates, municipal finance consultants, said the offer of 5-1/2 percent interest was about one-half percent less than that offered on the open market. The bonds, which work like promissory notes, will be paid back over the next 23 years.

REAGAN

Dealing with terrorists

By RONALD REAGAN

Whoever advised President Carter last week to satisfy that Ohio gunman's demand for a telephone call from the White House should have his head examined.

But the President wasn't the only one getting bad advice last week. When those crazed fanatics who stood Washington, D.C. on its head - killing one person, injuring several others and holding 134 hostage for two days - finally surrendered, the police let the leader of the group go free without bail!

It was different in Indiana last month. When a terrorist kidnapped his real estate broker and wired a shotgun to his neck, then demanded a crack at television prime time and immunity from prosecution, the authorities had a better idea. Promise him anything, but give him handcuffs, they reasoned.

IMMORAL TO break such a promise? I didn't think so. The normal rules are suspended when it's a question of capturing madmen in order to save innocent lives.

Some psychologists and psychiatrists say that we can never put a stop to these occasionally contagious outbursts of terrorism and hostage-taking until the American people let it be known they don't like this kind of entertainment on television. Maybe so, but it is useless to argue whether the chicken or the egg came first.

If the nation's television assignment editors and radio news directors would take a collective deep breath and declare a moratorium on live coverage of terrorist events during the commission of the crime, they would be cutting off the source of inspiration for an untold number of loose nuts who harbor similar crazy idea.

Marshall McLuhan was right. When it comes to lunatic acts of terrorism involving kidnapping, hostage-taking and outrageous demands, the medium is the message. Most people today get their headlines from television and radio. There is nothing that any but a tiny few can do about such events when they are in progress. For the rest, it amounts to entertainment - morbid as that may seem. The media are doing nothing to advance the public good by giving madmen press conferences.

LAW ENFORCEMENT authorities and elected officials could benefit from a deep breath on this issue, too. The time has come to make it known to one and all that terrorists' demands will not be honored. For every demand that is honored, who knows how many others are fermenting in sick minds facing television sets?

Shoot outs we don't need, and the authorities at the center of these delicate confrontations - such as the one faced in Washington last week - need all the moral support they can get, but let us not forget Entebbe. Publicly, the Israelis appeared to be ready to knuckle under to the hijackers' demands just before they pulled off their rescue operation.

The Indiana authorities didn't forget. They promised the gunman immunity. They gave him handcuffs.

Tangle on project to alter precincts

Grace Mary Stern, Lake County clerk, addressed the taxation and elections committee meeting last Wednesday and announced that in the absence of a resolution of support and a "public commitment" from that committee, the clerk's office would withdraw from the project to reduce the size of voting precincts and the drawing of new precinct boundaries.

"I AM NOT willing to be the political lightning rod for this project which is, in fact, a team affair. It began as a bi-partisan plan to re-draw the precinct boundary lines and to search out innovative ways of using our somewhat limited voting equipment and elections budget - and it has become a witch hunt. I, apparently, am cast as the witch."

The project began in January with a hearing during which George Kangas, chairman of the Republican Central Committee, and Hub Stern, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee, agreed publicly to support the proposed program which would cut back all precincts which are in excess of the statutory 800 registered voters.

MRS. STERN said her department would continue to do the initial drafts, implementing the plan to consolidate precincts for voting purposes, in light of the resolution and the publicizing of the committee's intent.

"Either it is our project - the brainchild of the taxation and elections committee, working closely with the county clerk - or the clerk's office will remove itself," she said.

Monday night's snowfall was typical of this part of the country. After all, it was the second day of spring and what else can we expect but snow?

The discouraging thing is that we can expect more of it in early April.

We especially empathize with golfers such as Mike Sexton of Antioch Auto Parts. Mike, one of the stars of last year's first annual Antioch Open tournament, and a gentleman who spends all winter counting the days till spring, was out with his foursome at Antioch Country Club only 10 days ago, enjoying the beautiful weather we had then.

Oh well, from Apr. 1 till Nov. 1 we'll get our share of golfing weather.

SPEAKING OF GOLF, we were over at the Playboy Club in Lake Geneva the other day. The resort has one of the most fabulous golf

Freezing Fruit
Freezing is one of the most satisfactory ways to preserve the color, flavor and nutritive value of most fruits. To ensure a quality product, select fruit at the peak of maturity that is firm-ripe. Then, work quickly. Wash fruit in cold water, washing a small amount at a time. Also, decide whether you want to sweeten the fruit before packing. You can do this in a syrup pack or in a dry sugar pack.

Tuffle's

Originally scheduled to open Jan. 15, the restaurant has only the foundation completed. Architectural work is soon to be finished and the builders (Lou Bacoyanis and John Bakos of Palatine, and Peter Mandas of Des Plaines) will be applying for further building permits in about two weeks.

Bacoyanis said Monday that they expect to start putting up the walls by mid-April and are hoping for a July 1 opening.

TUFFLE'S PLANS include 160 seats and parking for 60 cars. The building will be 4,000 square feet.

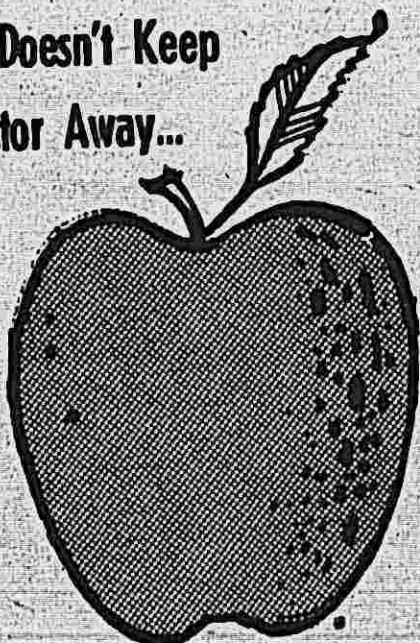

Open seven days a week, 24 hours a day, it will be English Tudor Style. The menu will include breakfast, lunches and dinners, and feature fountain service and special pies. Bacoyanis said they plan also to serve several varieties of pancakes and waffles.

BACOYANIS AND BAKOS own the Cow Palace, a supper club in Palatine. Mandas owns other restaurants.

Original plans for Tuffle's included a small cocktail lounge, but Antioch village officials disapproved because it will be too close to the high school, immediately to the north.

Although Bacoyanis said in October that the lounge might be a possibility in the future, the owners have now decided against it.

"Serving the Lakes Region Since 1894"

The Time Machine

50 YEARS AGO: MAR. 24, 1927

President Coolidge may be a summer visitor in Lake County, it was learned Tuesday following a letter written to the chief executive by Lloyd J. Brown, president of the Midway Railway Equipment Company, inviting Coolidge to accept the use of the Jackson Dering estate near Lake Villa for his vacation this summer. The large estate is located on the Fox Lake-Antioch road, near Petite and Fox lakes, and adjoins the estates of Edward and Otto Lehman.

Boys of the agriculture department in our high school are doing things on a large scale this year. Cooperatively they have purchased 24,000 Bermuda onion plants. These will be planted as soon as the danger of frost is over, and will then be a month or two in advance of any other onion planted from seed.

H.R. Adams Lumber Co. of Antioch, says, "We sell sheetrock because it's 100 percent right. Made of pure gypsum rock in broad high sheets, in a tough fibre casing. Saws and nails like lumber. An excellent insulator of summer's sun and winter's cold."

It was a white spring that arrived yesterday in Antioch. A calendar change from winter to spring came at the end of a downward slide in temperature which culminated in a snow. The high temperatures of the past week were: Mar. 14, 66; Mar. 15, 49; Mar. 16, 45; Mar. 17, 47; Mar. 18, 38; Mar. 19, 33; and Mar. 20, 37.

The new addition to Grass Lake School will contain four classrooms and a English-type basement which will serve as an all-purpose room. The present building has two conventional classrooms and a large lobby which has been used as a classroom. The seventh and eighth grades have been housed in a nearby one-room building.

10 YEARS AGO: MAR. 23, 1967

After a hearing held before the regular meeting of the Antioch village board Tuesday night, the board of local improvements recommended the village go ahead with the project to install sewer and water mains to Hennings Ct. and Hillside Ave.

The Fighting Sequoits won the regional basketball tournament, the first regional victory in the school's history. Team members included: Tony Barnett, Gregg Drije, Dave Comstock, Jerry Whitson, Bill Sheldon, Jim Litchfield, Bill Blecke, Steve Miklautsch, Joel Strahan, Bill Smith, Tyrone Walls, Don Zeman and Bruce Empfield. Managers were Russ Barthel and Don Francisco, who assisted coaches Norman Hahn and Roger Andrews.

courses in the world. While talking with Ken Judd, the pro, we came up with a super idea for the coming season.

Why not have Playboy bunnies chauffeur the men around the course in electric carts?

After all, the tired businessman playing three or four rounds of golf a week certainly deserves every consideration.

Also, my idea could make the Playboy course even more famous than it is now. It could set a record for balls sliced into the woods, shots topped because the golfers looked up - and, oh yes, the first golf club in history where not a swear word is heard all summer long.

IT ALSO could be the only course in the world where the club champion beats the runnerup 107 to 109 after 7 hours on the course and comes smiling off the 18th green with lipstick on his collar.

If they use bunnies for golf cart chauffeurs, Lake Geneva's Playboy course won't be much different than any other country club.

While the husbands are out golfing the wives and kids will be sitting around the swimming pool - of course, the wives may be sitting there with binoculars around their necks, but ...

And the golf committee may have trouble enforcing the rule of spending only five minutes in the woods looking for the lost ball ...

SINCE GOLFERS are noted for being "strictly business" out on the course, we can assume that the games played at the Playboy club - if my idea is put into effect - would go something like this:

"Gentlemen," says head pro Judd, holding hands with his assistant, "these are your bunnies for today. Mr. Jones, this is Gloria. And Mr. Smith, this is Lola."

"Which club would you like to use, Mr. Smith?" asks Lola.

"Whatever Lola wants, Lola gets ... ha, ha," chuckles Smith.

"Okay, fatso, shut up and just play golf," says Mrs. Smith, on her way to the pool to watch the four kids.

JONES, LOOKING at Gloria's ankles instead of his golf ball, tops his drive 25 yards into the left rough.

"Oh, fudge!" he says, with a big, silly smile on his face.

Then, later:

"Gosh, I'm sorry, Mr. Smith," says Lola. "I guess I was wrong when I told you to use a 2-iron on the last shot. Why your little ol' golf ball flew right over the green and hit your wife sitting by the swimming pool."

"Oh, think nothing of it, Lola. Nobody's perfect. By the way, what time do you get off work?"

Antioch pays tribute to VIP couple

A DELIGHTFUL EVENING was enjoyed by a capacity crowd at St. Peter's social center last Saturday when Hank (seated at right) and Ricky Apostol were honored as Antioch's VIP "couple of the year." Warmth and humor were provided by the many citizens who paid tribute to service they have given to their church and community. Standing behind Mr. and Mrs. Apostol is Ken Smouse, master of ceremonies. At Ricky's right is Fr. Francis L. Johnson, St. Peter's pastor.

THE BEAUTIFUL VOICE of Mary Chris LaKome, PM&L Theatre star, was a highlight of the dinner-dance. At the request of Hank and Ricky Apostol, Miss LaKome sang "I Don't Know How to Love Him," from "Jesus Christ Superstar."

FOR THEIR WORK with the Antioch Bicentennial Commission, Ricky and Hank Apostol received a gift and praise from William E. Brook (right), chairman of the commission that gave the community so many memorable events during 1976.

ONE OF THE TENDER and amusing moments last Saturday night happened while Mayor Robert C. Wilton was paying tribute to the Apostols. Their youngest daughter, Patricia Anne, casually strolled into the spotlight. The mayor picked her up, kissed her on the cheek and got a laugh from the audience when he said, "Isn't this what all politicians do?"

THE PM&L THEATRE "Glee Club," filled with talent but not exactly "organized" or famous yet, entertained at Antioch's 9th annual VIP dinner-dance last Saturday night. With apologies to Bob Hope, they sang "Thanks for the Memories" to their friends and fellow PM&L members, Hank and Ricky Apostol, who were honored as "couple of the year." Directing so beautifully at the left is Ken Smouse, who also starred as master of ceremonies.

'Brave New World' will still be taxing

By JERRY PFARR

The scientists, prophets and optimists who are forecasting what life will be like in the year 2000 are painting a pretty picture but they aren't telling us everything.

For example, one dreamer said that machines will be producing so much that every family in the United States, even the unemployed, thanks to government benefits will have an annual income of $30,000 to $40,000. But he didn't mention what the taxes would be.

CAN'T YOU JUST HEAR the family at the breakfast table on Mar. 23, 2000?

"Boy, I'd like to call in sick today and play some golf," says Dad, "but since they wiped out disease you can't fake anything anymore."

"You might as well go to work," says Mom. "The nuclear generating station announced that it's going to bring in some rain today."

"HEY DAD," SAYS JUNIOR, "will you buy me a new robot? The one I got keeps beating me at pingpong."

"I just bought your mother another robot for her birthday. The one that washes dishes and vacuums rugs. We're already a three robot family."

"How are things at the office?" asks Mom. "Boy, we had a tough day yesterday. The electronic brain broke down and we all had to think. But I was finally able to fire my secretary. I found a computer that replaces her."

"I'll bet it's a blond computer," says Mom.

"LOOK," SAYS DAD, "if you're in a bad mood today I can fix it. I'll put some of these new antigrouch pills in your coffee."

"I'm not in a bad mood," says Mom. "But I must admit I was a little disturbed last night. I wanted to see 'Gone With the Wind' but I dialed the wrong number on the television set and got a 1977 Jimmy Carter fireside chat."

"Gosh, that was rotten luck."

"By the way," says Mom, "you know how I like to collect old things. Well, guess what I saw yesterday at the village antique shop?"

"A black and white television set?"

"No, a wheel."

"Holy cow! Remember those? That was when we had automobiles."

"SAY, DAD," SAYS JUNIOR reading the sports section. "Look at this headline! The Bears are signing Joe Namath to play quarterback and George Blanda to kick field goals."

THE ENTERTAINER

'Aunt' comes to Antioch

Antioch is preparing to roll out the red carpet for "Charley's Aunt." This celebrated British farce will open at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main St. on Saturday, Apr. 9. Subsequent performances are scheduled for Fridays and Saturdays, Apr. 15, 16, 22 and 23. Curtain time for all of these showings is 8:30 p.m.

BECAUSE THIS PLAY has kept untold millions of people laughing ever since it was first presented in 1892, it is sometimes called "the world's funniest comedy." It is a classic, centering on mistaken identities caused by a hilarious female impersonator.

The 19th century British tale begins with invitations from Jack Chesney (played by Dan Baugher, Millburn) and Charles Wykeham (Dan Maloney, Fox Lake) to their girl friends, Kitty Verdun (Pamela Hunley, Antioch) and Amy Spettigue (Patricia Napolitano, Fox Lake) to a luncheon which is also to be attended by Charley's millionaire aunt, Donna Lucia D'Alyadorez (Bev Palmberg, Libertyville) from Brazil.

When it is believed that Donna Lucia might not be able to attend the affair, Jack and Charley's friend, Lord Fancourt Babberly (Mark Kettner, Round Lake), reluctantly agrees to impersonate Charley's aunt. The confusion and hilarity move into high gear when the real Donna Lucia arrives after all.

THE DIRECTOR of the PM&L production is Pat Jamison. She also directed "The Pajama Game," and Antioch audiences will no doubt also remember her outstanding work in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," "Fiddler on the Roof," and "The Lion in Winter." The PM&L cast of "Charley's Aunt" also includes Steven Woolaway, Great Lakes, as Col. Sir Francis Chesney; Josef Hunley, Antioch, as Stephen Spettigue; Kevin Little, Antioch, Brasset the butler; and Laura Krah, Lake Villa, Ela Delahay.

The telephone number to call to reserve your seats to see "Charley's Aunt" is 395-3055. As it is a well-known and better-documented fact that it is never too early to reserve seats to see a PM&L success, you are very well advised to call for your reservations now.

Roast beef dinner set

The Antioch Methodist Men are sponsoring their annual old fashioned roast beef dinner from 5 to 8 p.m., Saturday, Apr. 2 at the church's Wesley Hall, 848 Main St.

Wesley Hall is located to the rear of the church, next to the parking lot.

Allendale plans for Easter

A traditional Easter service will be conducted by the Rev. Wayne Nowak of the Ivanhoe Congregational Church, in the Allendale Chapel on Sunday, Apr. 3, at 2 p.m.

The highlight of the service will be a special presentation by the Ivanhoe Guitar and Choral Youth Group.

Following the chapel service there will be an Easter egg hunt, Easter egg eating contest and refreshments.

Mr. Robert Holway, executive director of Allendale, is inviting the public to attend and share the Easter season with the Allendale residents.

"ADAM 12" and "BINGO 12" - Martin Milner (right), star of the TV series, "Adam 12," autographs a hat for Al J. "Bingo" Bianco of Antioch. The hat is a souvenir replica of the No. 12 Bingo wore during his 32 years with the Chicago Fire Department. He met Milner at the Chateau Louise theater. Bianco is one of the four candidates for Antioch township supervisor in the Apr. 5 election. The others are Jim Fields, Edward C. Marsh and Ronald G. Martini.

Attention all sports fans and sporting folk!

The Antioch News offers you one of those once-in-a-lifetime (hopefully) thrills. Jerry "Olympic Legs" Pfarr has challenged Betsy Rossen to a tennis match. Jerry figures that even though he doesn't know how to play, his natural athletic ability will triumph over her 12 years of practice.

The Houston Astrodome is booked up, so they plan to clash at Jensen Park the next warm day. We hope they keep it peaceful - it could make quite a racket.

MR. AND MRS. Paul L. Chase of Antioch were pleasantly surprised last week when Mr. and Mrs. H. Hubbard of Aurora called on them. Mr. Hubbard was a shipmate of Paul's on the U.S.S.

A SIGN OF SPRING is the showing of artwork produced during the winter months. Antioch High School art students will be showing their work starting this Saturday through Apr. 1 at the College of Lake County. The event is the annual Northwest Conference High School Art Exhibit.

Instructor Sue Towns has selected about 25 pieces of batik, macrame and tie dye to be shown with an equal number of drawings, paintings and designs from instructor Jane Craner's classes.

The pair will be taking about 25 students to Northern Illinois University this Sturday to attend seminars, demonstrations and workshops.

TED PALMEN of Bristol, Wis. will be the guest caller tomorrow (Thursday) evening for the March Winds dance with the Paddock Lake Squares. The badge dance will be from 8 to 10:30 p.m. at the Hooker Clubhouse on 250th Ave. in Paddock Lake, Wis.

Round dancing will be from 7:30 to 8 p.m. with Betty Drafz and Jerry Packman of Kenosha.

HEAR TELL the mother-daughter banquet at the Antioch Evangelical Free Church brought quite a crowd last Friday. About 200 daughters of all ages enjoyed the dinner, and then were treated to a women's quartet from Trinity College in Deerfield. A missionary nurse to Ethiopia was the featured speaker. And we hear the guys did a super job on kitchen and table duty.

And speaking of bringing in the crowds, the entertaining Young Illini just completed several successful engagements in Orlando, Fla. Antioch's Kat Poskozim is among the singers, dancers and musicians who performed last week at Disneyworld, the Lake Buena Vista complex and Sea World.

WE HOPE Richard Elliston's birthday last Wednesday, the 16th, was a happy one. Sounds cryptic to us, but rumor has it the Tasmanian Appler visited him.

to the Editor

(Editor's note: The Antioch News welcomes letters from readers regarding candidates for election. We are happy to print them; however, no letters about candidates can be published the week prior to the election.)

To the Editor:

As my term of Antioch township supervisor draws to a close I would like to take this opportunity to thank the voters of Antioch Township for their support in electing me to office in five previous elections. I would hope that I have justified their faith in me by past performance in office.

Township government has come a long way since I was first elected in 1954. In my opinion it is the government closest to the people. Where decisions can be made "on the spot" without the usual red tape of forms, bureaus, and legal opinions that you encounter on the state and federal levels.

I am naturally very interested in who will succeed me in office, and in reviewing the candidates for supervisor Jim Fields stands "head and shoulders" above anyone else who is running for this important post. As a respected life-long resident he is aware of the problems confronting this area in the years ahead and in my opinion is well qualified to deal with these problems.

Another office that has a "low profile" but is an integral part of township government is the township clerk. I have had the good fortune, during my entire term, in working with Lewellyn (Buster) Van Patten as my township clerk, and I can say without reservation that he has done a tremendous job. He is knowledgeable, well versed in the requirement of the office and ready and willing to assist in any way possible. It is important to the township office and the residents that Lewellyn (Buster) Van Patten be retained as township clerk.

Again, I want to thank everyone for their support during the past 22 years.

8 are running for grade school board

Eight candidates have filed petitions for the Antioch Grade School board election on Saturday, Apr. 9. Voters will elect three of the candidates to three-year terms and one candidate to a one-year term.

Running for the three-year terms in District 34 are incumbents Gail Heath and Ray Atwood, and also Phil Cirone, Robert Olson, Bruce Jablonski and Garnet Cook.

Competing for the one-year term are Curt Denny and Robert Kelley.

District 34 includes the Antioch Upper and Lower grade schools, Oakland school and Channel Lake school.

The Antioch Elementary Education Association will sponsor a "meet the candidates" session at the Upper Grade School audiovisual room next Wednesday, Mar. 30, at 7:30 p.m.

PAUL EPNER, A TEACHER and moderator for the session, said each candidate will be asked to make a statement and then answer any questions that may come from the audience.

"This is a good opportunity to become educated about the views of the candidates," Epner said. "An informed public makes better decisions and, after all, what could be more important than the group that sets the policy for the education of our future leaders? Plan on attending."

Get homeowners insurance for your whole home.

When your home is damaged or destroyed, it's expensive to rebuild.

Construction and labor costs have increased more than 50 per cent in the past few years. So, if you haven't revised your policy recently, you're probably underinsured.

Revamp your outdated insurance with a homeowners policy from Country Mutual. Chances are you'll save money with a Country Mutual homeowners policy, too.

ANSWER

FALSE! Only certain types of contracts must be in writing. To avoid fraud, most states require written proof of contracts dealing with real estate or large sums of money, contracts promising to pay someone else's debts, and contracts based upon marriage or which cannot be performed within a stated period—usually one year.

This feature presents legal principles and problems. It should not be taken as a legal opinion or advice, which can be given only by an attorney after considering all relevant facts and circumstances.

PERSPECTIVES

Coping with disagreement

By CRAIG MASSEY
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

Marriage is going to have conflicts, but if a couple is serious about eliminating their differences, these suggestions should help:

Determine to see the problem from your mate's point of view.

Try this interesting experiment. After your mate has described the situation say something like this: "Let me see if I have this straight. You said ..." and then go on and put into words what you think your mate has said. You'll be in for a surprise. Check the real cause for conflict.

Most arguments are spin-offs from some basic problem which has existed for some time. It is good, when a discussion arises, to check the real cause. Quite often the real issue is never made clear.

Stick with the facts

Don't becloud the issue with unrelated reminders of all the things your mate has done through the years to hurt you. Is it really that important?

Ninety percent of all disagreements would disappear if this question were answered honestly.

May we remind you that a man will look at things from a masculine viewpoint and a woman will look at things from a feminine viewpoint. Accept the differences. There will be times when there is no other solution but acceptance.

Check the various solutions

Both mates should ask each other, "How would you solve the problem?" Often with a little yielding of both parties a satisfying compromise can be worked out.

Avoid selfishness

We realize this is hard, for all disagreements are basically selfish.

Try this the next time you have an argument: tell your mate, "I'll defend your point of view, if you'll defend mine." Result? Not much of an argument.

True love should take the other's side. We were wrong, but Christ took our part and died for our transgressions and He never scolded us for it.

Show grace

Grace is doing a favor for someone who does not deserve to have any favor done. Our Lord is a God of grace. He doesn't criticize us. He doesn't complain about us. Think of all He went through to solve our problems. Could we do that for the one we love?

'Wait till next year' is Sequoits' battle cry

Final statistics on Antioch High School's basketball season have been released by Coach Roger Andrews.

The Sequoit roster, composed mostly of juniors who are expected to be winners next winter, finished this year with a 10-16 record.

They were third in the north division of the Northwest Suburban Conference. Final standings, with won-lost records, were Grant 14-2, Warren 12-4, Antioch 7-9, Round Lake 5-11, Grayslake 4-12 and Woodstock 4-12.

Stevenson and Dundee tied for the south division title with 13-3 records.

TWO ANTIOCH PLAYERS, Brian Andrews and Bill Dubek, were named to the all-conference team.

Andrews also was honored by his teammates as "most valuable player" and team captain. The Sequoits elected Drew Dietz as their most improved player.

IN THEIR SECOND GAME of the season the Sequoits lost by only seven points to Barrington, a team which wound up among the top eight in the state tournament.

Barrington defeated Antioch 64-57 in the annual Turkey Classic on Barrington's floor.

For the season, Antioch averaged 55.1 points a game compared to only 57.4 for its opponents.

Antioch's leading individual scorers were Dubek with a 14.8 average, Andrews with 10.3, Tracy Sodman with 9.0 and Tim Huebner with 8.5. All four are juniors who will be back next season.

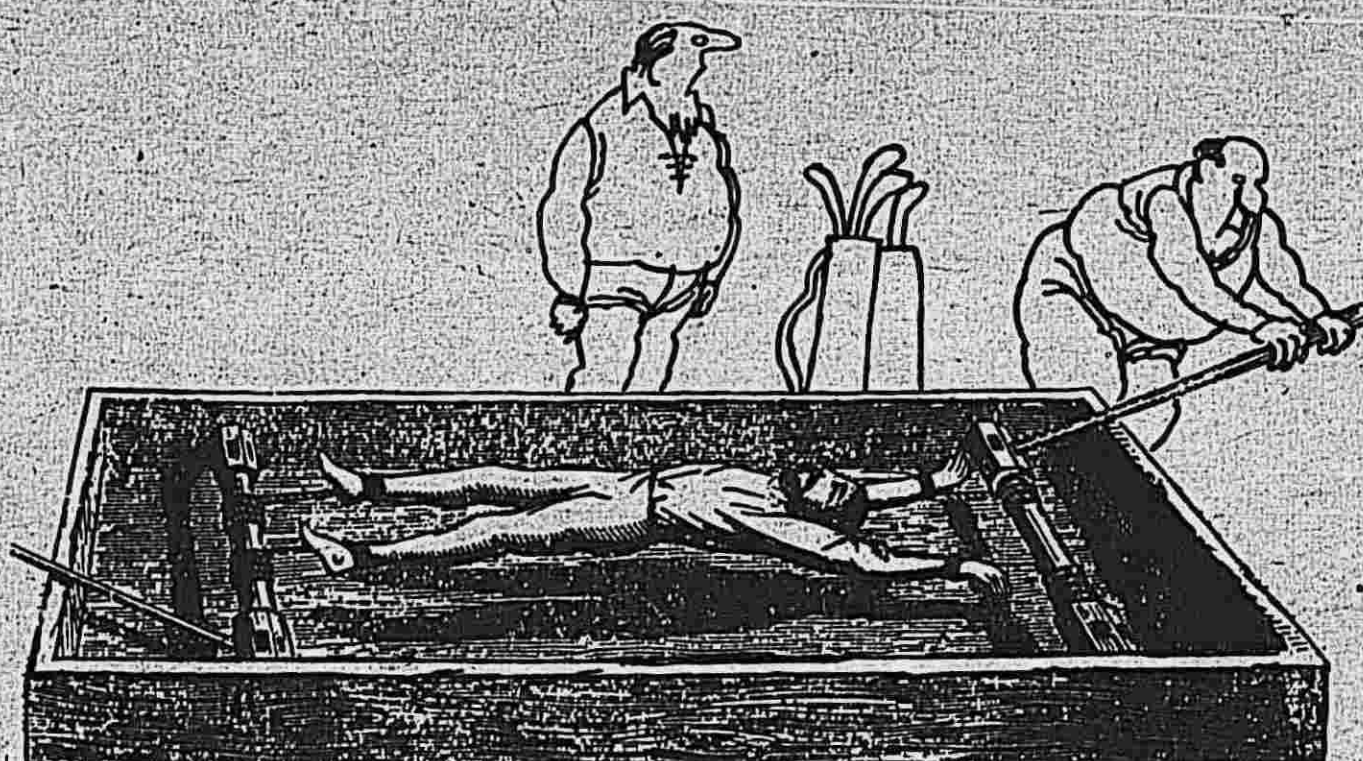

DIETZ HAD THE BEST field goal percentage, sinking 52 percent of his shots. Sodman was second with 47 percent and that made him the best shooter in the starting lineup. Andrews hit 41 percent of their field goal attempts.

Andrews made 68.7 percent of his free throws to win the annual Roger Lang Memorial award. Dubek made 68 percent of his free throws.

Sodman and Andrews led in offensive rebounds with 61 and 60 respectively. On defensive rebounds, Dubek had 108, Tim Huebner 103 and Andrews 102.

Andrews, a fine playmaker, led in assists with 107, twice as many as any other player. He also made 60 recoveries of loose balls, nearly twice as many as any of his teammates.

ABC's of Travel

By BARB CORBIN

The U.S. is gradually converting to the metric system of measurement, which is used throughout much of the rest of the world.

However, many overseas travelers still have trouble reading highway distance signs, telling the temperature and figuring the price of things they wish to buy.

The chart below shows how to convert the ways of measuring things we're familiar with into metric.

Gallons into liters - multiply by 9 and then divide by 2.
Kilograms into pounds - divide by 9 and multiply by 20.
Fahrenheit to Centigrade - subtract by 32, multiply by 5 and divide by 9.
Centigrade to Fahrenheit - multiply by 9, divide by 5 and add 32.

"By the way, Junior, how are you doing in basketball?"

"The coach says I'm too short, Dad, I'm only 7 foot 10."

"YOU'D BETTER GET YOUR books, son," says Mom. "Here comes the school jet."

"Yeah," says Dad, "and I have to head for the office. I don't know whether to take the family air car, or open up my briefcase and strap on my lightweight helicopter with the collapsible blades."

"Why don't you take the commuter tunnel?" says Mom. "It's faster."

"Yeah, too fast. At 500 miles an hour it gets me downtown in three minutes. I don't even have time to read the front page. Boy, remember those good ol' days of the RTA?"

"BY THE WAY," says Mom, "Don't forget to pay the radar bill today. And come home early we're having the Smiths and the Joneses over for capsules. And after dinner we'll play some party games. I wonder what we can give for prizes?"

"How-about a trip to the moon?"
